Stephan Ehrets, Maître en droit

Stephan Ehrets advises on private construction law with a focus on international plant construction projects, particularly in the field of renewable energies (onshore/offshore wind, solar parks). His work includes advising on and negotiating international standard contracts (FIDIC, NEC) and individually tailored EPC contracts, assisting with construction law disputes with international dimensions, and representing clients in international arbitration proceedings.

In real estate law, he advises in particular on commercial tenancy law (production, hotel, logistics and retail properties) as well as on FM and operator agreements. He also assists clients in real estate transactions, including due diligence reviews.

He advises in German, English, French and Dutch.
